§ 1 Information on the collection of personal data and contact details of the controller

1. In the following, we inform you about the handling of your personal data. Personal data is all data with which you can be personally identified.
2. The controller in charge of data processing on this website, within the meaning of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), is 'reSAILience e.V., Dreimühlenstraße 30, 80469 Munich, info@resailience.org', represented by the Executive Board Hendrik Brüggemann, Tjada Schult and Philipp Seifert. The controller responsible for the processing of personal data is the natural or legal person who alone or jointly with others determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data.

§ 2 Health data

1. We, reSAILience e.V., Dreimühlenstraße 30, 80469 Munich, process personal data, including health data, as part of the registration and organisation of a sailing trip. Health data are special categories of personal data within the meaning of Art. 9 para. 1 of the General Data Protection Regulation ('GDPR').
2. We only process your health data if and to the extent that you voluntarily provide it to us and if this is permitted by law or you have consented to the processing of your personal data.
3. We process the following health data as part of the registration and organisation of a sailing trip:
 - a) Medical and psychological results, such as medical certificates, clearance certificates and other medical documents.
 - b) Information about infectious diseases that could pose a risk to other participants.
 - c) Medication associated with the underlying medical condition and medication currently being taken.
 - d) Information on physical and mental condition.
4. We process the health data provided by you exclusively for the following purposes:
 - a) Enabling your participation in the sailing trip: For this purpose, it is necessary that we obtain knowledge of whether your participation is safe from a health and medical point of view.
 - b) Ensuring a safe sailing trip: For this purpose, it is necessary for us to know whether your participation can guarantee the safety of the sailing trip at all times and that you do not suffer from any infectious diseases that could endanger the other participants.
5. The operators of the data centres commissioned by reSAILience do not have access to keys or unencrypted health data.
6. The personal data provided by you or collected by us will not be used for automated decision-making.
7. Health data will not be passed on, sold or otherwise transferred to third parties. Anything else shall only apply if this is necessary for the fulfilment of the communicated or agreed purposes and is permitted under applicable data protection law without consent, if you have explicitly consented or if we are legally obliged to do so.
8. We only store your health data for as long as is necessary for the preparation and realisation of the sailing trips.

9. The declaration of consent can be revoked at any time, with effect from the time of revocation. Consent can be revoked at the following address: via email to info@resailience.org or via post to reSAILience e.V., Dreimühlenstraße 30, 80469 Munich.

§ 3 Purpose and legal basis

1. Personal data is collected when you contact us (e.g. via contact form or e-mail). This data is stored and used exclusively for the purpose of responding to your enquiry or for contacting you and the associated technical administration. The legal basis for the processing of this data is our legitimate interest in responding to your request in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR.
2. If your contact is aimed at concluding a contract, the additional legal basis for the processing is Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR. Your data will be deleted after final processing of your enquiry. This is the case when it can be inferred from the circumstances that the matter in question has been conclusively resolved and provided that there are no statutory retention obligations to the contrary.
3. In the event of a contract being concluded, your data will be processed to fulfil the contract in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b and f GDPR.

§ 4 Rights

1. The applicable data protection law grants you the following data subject rights (rights of access and intervention) vis-à-vis the controller with regard to the processing of your personal data, whereby reference is made to the stated legal basis for the respective exercise requirements:

Right to information pursuant to Art. 15 GDPR;

Right to rectification pursuant to Art. 16 GDPR;

Right to erasure pursuant to Art. 17 GDPR;

Right to restriction of processing pursuant to Art. 18 GDPR;

Right to information in accordance with Art. 19 GDPR;

Right to data portability pursuant to Art. 20 GDPR;

Right to withdraw consent granted pursuant to Art. 7 para. 3 GDPR;

Right to lodge a complaint pursuant to Art. 77 GDPR.

2. Right of objection

If we process your personal data as part of a balancing of interests on the basis of our overriding legitimate interest, you have the right to object to this processing at any time with effect for the future on grounds relating to your particular situation. The revocation can be made at the following address: by email to info@resailience.org or by post to reSAILience e.V., Dreimühlenstraße 30, 80469 Munich.

If you exercise your right to object, we will stop processing the data concerned. However, we reserve the right to continue processing if we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, fundamental rights and freedoms, or if the processing serves the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

If your personal data is processed by us for the purpose of direct marketing, you have the right to object at any time to the processing of personal data concerning you for the purpose of such marketing. You can exercise your objection as described above.

If you exercise your right to object, we will stop processing the data concerned for direct marketing purposes.

§ 5 Duration of storage of personal data

1. The duration of the storage of personal data is determined by the respective legal basis, the purpose of processing and - if relevant - additionally by the respective statutory retention period (e.g. retention periods under commercial and tax law).
2. When processing personal data based on an explicit consent in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR, this data is stored until the data subject withdraws their consent.
3. If there are statutory retention periods for data that is processed within the framework of legal or similar obligations based on Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR, this data will be routinely deleted after the retention periods have expired, provided that it is no longer required for contract fulfilment or contract initiation and/or we no longer have a legitimate interest in further storage.
4. When processing personal data based on Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR, this data is stored until the data subject exercises their right to object in accordance with Art. 21 para. 1 GDPR, unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject, or the processing serves the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.
5. When processing personal data for the purpose of direct marketing based on Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR, this data is stored until the data subject exercises their right to object in accordance with Art. 21 para. 2 GDPR.
6. Unless otherwise stated in the other information in this declaration on specific processing situations, stored personal data is deleted when it is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it was collected or otherwise processed.
